

ID:
Mehmet Akman

Affiliation:

Marmara University School of Medicine, Department of Family Medicine,
<http://ahad.tip.marmara.edu.tr/en/>

TAHEV (Turkish Foundation of Family Medicine)
<http://www.tahev.org>

Short bio:

Mr Mehmet Akman (Turkish national) is an academician working in the field of primary care. He has a family medicine background and received a master degree in public health. Mr Akman has extensive experience as a tutor in under and post graduate medical education, primary care research, medical humanities.

He is member of several national and international organizations and working groups such as EURACT (European Academy of Teachers in General Practice), TAHUD (Turkish Association of Family Physicians), European representative of WONCA Working Party on Research, associate editor of Turkish journal of Family Practice. Besides, he is the founder and member of the board of Trustee's of TAHEV (Turkish Foundation of Family Medicine). He is the leading or co-author of more than 35 national and international articles published in peer reviewed scientific journals on several subjects such as, child and adolescent health, medical education, women's health, primary care, Chronic disease management, obesity, Behçet disease and osteoarthritis. He has been assigned as reviewer by several journals like Journal of Pediatrics, Maternal and Child Health journal, Turkish journal of Public Health. His present position is associate professor of Family Medicine at Marmara University School of medicine, Family Medicine Department. From this position he is continuing his work as lecturer, family physician and researcher.